GAS REPORT FOLLOW UP OF AMERICAN

Prominent Member of Lighting Committee Forecasts Decision to This Extent.

OPPOSE SLIDING SCALE

The gas problem is now in the hands of the Legislative Committee on Public Lighting. The hearings have closed and this week the committee will begin the serious consideration of the various propositions in executive session. The plans of the gas company at Commercial Point, South Boston, and of the Edison Electric Light Company, will be stated this week to the committee. Just how the committee will report on the various bills and recommendations before it relative to the gas situation in the city of Boston and also in the State is difficult to forecast, as the members of the committee insist that they have not considered the matter before them with that degree of attention to which they are entitled. One prominent member of the committee said in discussing the case.

Regarding the Sliding Scale. The English sliding scale of gas prices and dividends, first explained in the BOSTON AMERICAN a week ago, has come to the front recently, and the latest form of its approval is in the memorandum sent to the committee by the City Solicitor. It is understood by the committee that Mayor Sullivan does not oppose the sliding scale and that the bill and argument submitted by the City Solicitor were the courteous response of that official to the request of the committee for information. The committee is now in the hands of the State Board of Trade upon the sliding scale and believe that the committee will not conclude with the gas trust and not accept compromise measures.

Oppose Such an End.

Within the last few days there has been this in the Public Lighting Committee, a vote of a majority in favor of the appointment of a special commission to consider the gas question of the city of Boston in the light of the gas question of the State in general, in report to the next session of the committee. The committee has sought in favor of this proposition, and has found that those friendly to the gas trust are strongly in favor of such action, while those opposed to the Trust are bitterly against such a plan. INCE NOIR IS CAPTURED, SAPOLICE

Joseph Chiezo Arrested on the Charge of Burning North End Business Buildings.

Joseph Chiezo, of No. 82 Railroad street, is under arrest, charged with setting fire to several of the buildings in Boston's most notorious district within the past few months. The fire, done in connection, is over $200,000.

Chiezo was caught in a burning stable at North Centre street Sunday night. William Thompson, the night watchman, who was on duty at the time, saw Chiezo sitting in the harness room at the time, and saw him heard footsteps coming the door, and opened it to find Chiezo, who ran for Harvard street when he saw Thompson.

Chiezo had decanted two horse runs from the jail last night. He was suspicious of the man's actions and chased him down the street. He had no more than reached the street when he saw the man running away from him. Chiezo was seen by the Boston & Maine watchmen taking off their hats and waving their hands, and they are positive that it is the same man.

SAVING PASTORS SHOULD GET $500 A YEAR

Rev. Mr. Staples Urges That as Minimum Salary at Melrose Conference.

CALLS FOR MORE FUNDS

Every Methodist clergyman should be paid at least $500 a year and home rent in the report of the Melrose Conference held at the Melrose Hotel last night of the New England Conference, in Melrose, Mass. Mr. Staples declared that the conference had decided upon a minimum salary of $500 a year and home rent for every Methodist clergyman. He said that every effective man can have a reasonable and decent support. He said that any church should demand the whole and exclusive ministrations of a capable man and pay for his support less than $200, besides the small cottage in which he would have to live. He said that the conference had decided upon a minimum salary of $500 a year and home rent for every Methodist clergyman. He said that every effective man can have a reasonable and decent support.
